Hello Karen and Roger,

I was asked to help schedule a meeting of all necessary resources, legal, etc. If you'd like to provide EPA open dates/times to have a discussion (phone?), I can then work with the Chemours resources on matching up good dates.

We will have a new outside counsel involved. Libby Stennes, who was involved before, may need to take time off for medical reasons. The new attorney is Mike Meloy of Manko Gold. He will work with Bradley Aulick, Chemours attorney. I do not know yet if a DuPont resource will be assigned.

Thanks.....Andrew

Since my last email to you, our counsel informed me that they want to be part of any discussions that we have with you (DuPont and/or Chemours). Of course, this also means that your counsel would be present as well. Sorry for any confusion Andrew. Hopefully, we will be able to engage in some constructive conversation sometime next week.

Roger Reinhart

Hi Andrew,

Neither Karen nor I will be in the office tomorrow. In any event, as you may be aware, EPA attorneys have spoken with Chemours' counsel, Bradley Aulick, concerning the Washington Works facility. Accordingly, communications between DuPont/Chemours and EPA regarding any changes to the existing Administrative Order should occur between our respective counsel. However, if you would like to discuss implementation of the existing Order, Karen and I will be available all of next week to do so. Please let us know. Thanks.

Good morning Andrew,

Attached are the latest PWS sampling results as tested by the city of Vienna. As you can see, most of the individual wells would exceed the expected new health advisory for PFOA. Are you available to talk with Karen and me about possible plans to address this situation? Please call or email me with times that are convenient. Thanks.
